

As part of the Utah County I-15 Corridor Expansion (I-15 CORE) project, crews are rebuilding the Provo Center Street interchange. The interchange is designed to improve traffic flow and will also add improved pedestrian access. A new pedestrian walkway will be completed as part of the interchange reconstruction. The new walkway is separated from traffic and directs pedestrians to signalized crosswalks at the interchange. The new walkway will connect with the existing sidewalk near 1000 West on the east side and at 1600 West on the southwest side of the interchange.
